

Grace Lindqvist

Developer Advocate

grace.lindqvist@openlanemail.com | (651) 555-0132 | Minneapolis, MN | linkedin.com/in/gracelindqvist-devrel | github.com/glindqvist

SUMMARY

Developer advocate with 5 years of experience bridging engineering and community for API-first products. Combines a strong technical writing background with hands-on coding, and has grown developer communities from early stage through tens of thousands of active users.

CORE SKILLS

Technical Writing	API documentation, tutorials, sample apps, release notes
Languages	Python, JavaScript, Go (sample apps and demos)
Community	Conference speaking, workshop facilitation, Discord/forum management
Tools	Docusaurus, Postman, GitHub, Swagger/OpenAPI

EXPERIENCE

Developer Advocate Mar 2022 - Present
Openlane API Platform — Minneapolis, MN

- Grew the developer community from 4,000 to 38,000 registered developers through documentation improvements, sample projects, and conference talks.
- Rewrote the core API documentation and quickstart guides, reducing average time-to-first-successful-API-call from 45 minutes to 12 based on onboarding analytics.
- Built 6 open-source sample applications demonstrating common integration patterns, collectively earning over 2,000 GitHub stars.
- Delivered talks at 8 industry conferences and ran quarterly workshops that directly contributed to a measurable increase in API sign-ups following each event.

Technical Writer Aug 2020 - Feb 2022
Fernwood Software — Minneapolis, MN

- Owned end-to-end documentation for a B2B SaaS platform, cutting documentation-related support tickets by 28%.
- Partnered with engineering to establish a docs-as-code workflow, integrating documentation review into the standard pull-request process.

Content & Community Coordinator Jul 2019 - Jul 2020
Birchwood Media — Minneapolis, MN

- Managed a technical blog and community forum, growing monthly readership by 60% over one year.

EDUCATION

University of Minnesota, Twin Cities 2015 - 2019
B.A. in Technical Communication